SERMON XXI.

There is no Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper.

1 Cor. XI. 23, 24, 25.

For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same Night in which he was betrayed, took Bread.

And when he had given thanks he broke it, and said, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is broken for you; this do in remembrance of me.

After the same manner also he took the Cup when he had supped, saying, This Cup is the New Testament in my Blood, this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

GOD hath exalted Man above all Creatures of the visible World, in giving him a Being capable of Religion, and thereby of Eternal Life and Happinefs in the enjoyment of himself. And to the end that God may make himself glorious, in making lost Man happy, he hath in infinite Wisdom and Grace given us his written Word, to be a perfect Rule of that Christian Religion, (a) by which we may obtain Eternal Life and Happinefs in God by Christ; in which Word he hath not only revealed this glorious Happinefs to us, and brought Life and Immortality to light, through the Gospel; (b) but also told us, what gives us a title unto, and fits us for, and the way that leads unto the full possession of it.

And therefore what tongue can express the desperate madness and folly of those men, who forfake the good Word of the Grace of God, (c) for a Religion that hath no other Foundation than the words of lying men.

And such is the Popish-Religion, which as it is Popish, is devised only by.

(a) In his quaerit aperte psa. (b) Sun in S. tura, inuenia. (c) continens, moris, vivendi, Aug. de Doctrina Christiana. lib. 2. cap. 9. b 2 Tim. 1. 9. c Act. 20. 32.
by Devils and Men, to feed lusts, and to serve a carnal and worldly Interest, and tends to the Damnation of millions of Soul's.

Their Doctrine of Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper, which I am now called to bear witness against, is one of the chief Articles of this Religion; and if this falls, their Idolatrous worshipping their Hoit, their most abhorred propitiatory Sacrificing Christ in their Mafs, their Sacrilegious robbing the People of the Cup, and a great part of their Religion must fall with it; and yet by the Grace of God, I shall in this ensuing Discourse make it appear; that Transubstantiation is such an hideous Error, that the very nature and clear Consequences of it do crye of the true Christian Religion, as they cryed of Jerusalem, (a) Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.

I shall therefore fall immediately to my work, which is to prove two things:

1. That there is no Transubstantiation in the Eucharist or Lords Supper; and take notice, that I do not question but the name Eucharist hath been anciently, and may be still fitly given to this Sacrament, but I shall choose to call it according to Scripture, the Lords Supper, it being better known among us by that Name.

2. That it is Idolatry in the Papists to worship the consecrated Bread, though they think it is turned into the Body of Christ.

Now because in these words (with those in the three Evangelists, Matt. 26. 26, 27, 28. Mark. 14. 22, 23, 24. Luke. 22. 19, 20, which I would be understood to take into my Text) the Institution of the Lords Supper is fully and clearly delivered from Christ to his Church, and because these words do carry us in a right line to the Author, and Nature, and Use, and Ends of this Ordinance; and are the true Standard by which we must try all Doctrines, and Opinions, and Practices touching the Lords Supper: and also because our Adversaries pretend to receive their Doctrine of Transubstantiation from Christ in these words: I have therefore chosen them for the most proper Subject of this Discourse.

And herein I shall proceed in this method.

1. I shall briefly acquaint you with the true Doctrine of the Lords Supper, taught by Christ in these words.

2. Acquaint you with the Doctrine of Transubstantiation, which the Papists pretend to receive from Christ in these words.

3. Prove that there is no Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper.

4. I shall make Application, and therein prove the second Proposition, viz. That it is Idolatry in the Papists to worship the consecrated Bread, though they think it be turned into the Body of Christ.

First, I shall give you a brief and plain account of the Doctrine of the Lords Supper, taught us in these words, in six particulars, which I shall further improve in the following Discourse.

1. Jesus
1. Jesus Christ hath in infinite Wisdom and Love appointed Bread and Wine for this Sacrament; this is evident by those words, Jesus took Bread, and he took the Cup; wherein was the Fruit of the Vine: Our dying Lord being about to institute and administer the Lords Supper, in Order thereunto he solemnly took Bread and Wine.

2. It is the Will of Jesus Christ that Bread and Wine be blessed and conferred by the Ministers of the Gospel, this Bread and Wine must be changed from that common use, which they had before Consecration, by being blessed to a holy and spiritual and Sacramental use: This appears by our Saviours practice recorded in the Text, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and he took the Cup and gave thanks: The word εὐχαριστός, translated blessed, and εὐχαριστεῖν, translated gave thanks, do here signify the same thing, and do assure us, that Christ blessed the Bread and Wine, which obligeth all Ministers in this Cafe to do the same; and therefore faith the Apostle, 2 Cor. 10. 16. The Cup of Blessing which we bless, and the Bread which we break, meaning the Bread of blessing, which we bless and break; for both were blessed by our Saviour, and are to be blessed by his Ministers, and are thereby made blessed Bread, and blessed Wine.

3. It is the will of Jesus Christ, that this blessed Bread be broken by his Ministers; this was a holy Rite, or Action of Christ, recorded by the three Evangelists, and by St. Paul in the Text, which tells us, he blessed the Bread, and brake it; from which Sacred Rite, Expositors conceive, that this Sacrament is called breaking of Bread, Acts 20. 6. and it is clear, that our Saviour made this Bread, as thus broken, to signify the Body of Christ, which is broken for us; and therefore faith the Apostle, It is broken Bread that is the Communion of the Body of Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 16. And though I cannot stay to quarrel with the Papists for lighter matters, yet take notice of their bold Superstition in affronting Christ herein, by making their Bread into little round Wafers, and not breaking it, but putting it whole into the mouths of the Communicants.

4. Jesus Christ hath appointed that this blessed Bread, and blessed Wine, be administered to Believers; this is clear by our Saviours example mentioned in the Text, which tells us, that the Bread which he took, and blessed, and brake, he gave to his Disciples; and the Cup which he took, and blessed, he gave to them. Jesus Christ administered the blessed Bread and blessed Wine in this Sacrament.

5. It is the command of Jesus Christ, that Believers do take, and eat, and drink, this blessed Bread, and blessed Wine; for Christ gave and administered them with a command to take, and eat, and drink them; the words are clear, Take, eat, drink ye all of it; which Command the Disciples obeyed, and did take, and eat and drink the blessed Bread and Wine which Christ gave them; and so we see this blessed Bread and Wine passing from Christ to his Disciples in the Lords Supper, and eaten and and drunk by them: And therefore Christians be sure to hold fast these two things in the Lords Supper.

(1.) Never yield to part with the Bread and Wine out of the Lords Supper, for they are blessed, destroy them not, for a blessing is in them; all the Blessings that come from the infinite Love of God in Christ by the Covenant of Grace, for the Salvation of Believers, are in this blessed Bread, and blessed Wine, and if ye lose the Bread and Wine, ye lose those blessings as conveyed by them.

(2.) Take and eat, and drink this Bread and Wine as the Bread of Blessing, and as the Cup of Blessing, take the Blessing that is offered with them, for it is the Blessing that makes this glorious Feast of the Lords Supper.

6. Jesus Christ hath declared the use, which this Bread and Wine are blessed, and consecrated unto; in these words, This is my Body, or this is my Body which is given, or broken for you. This Cup is my Blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many, &c. or, this Cup is the New Testament in my Blood.

These words declare two main Uses, whereunto this Bread and Wine are blessed and consecrated.

(1.) To be Sacramental Signs, to signify and represent to us Jesus Christ crucified, and all the Benefits of his Death; for the words do clearly speak of Christ crucified, and that with respect to us. This is my Body which is broken for you; this Cup is the New Testament in my Blood which is shed for you. And by Faith, whereby the Heart doth assent to the truth of these words, we do in this Ordinance discern the Lords Body broken for us, and his Blood shed for us, and have our Souls filled, and suitably affected with the holy knowledge and remembrance, and contemplation of Christ crucified for us.

(2.) To be a Seal to confirm the New Testament or Covenant of Grace, whereby Christ and all the Benefits of his Death are conveyed to Believers; this appears by these words, This Cup is the New Testament, &c. and by the Apostles Explication of the words, This is my Body,-- this Cup is my Blood. 1 Cor. 10. 16. The Cup of Blessing which we bless, is it not the Communion of the Blood of Christ? and the Bread which we break, is it not the Communion of the Body of Christ? Teaching us plainly, that by this blessed Bread and Wine, there is a Communication of the Body and Blood of Christ, and of all the Benefits of his Death, which Believers are made partakers of in the Lords Supper; and therefore we are commanded to take, and eat, and drink this blessed Bread and Wine, for this use also; which we do, not only by seeing Christ crucified as here represented to us, but also by accepting, and receiving, and feeding upon him by Faith as he is here offered to us, to be the most glorious Feast of our Souls. And although it is the great Duty of Believers to see and feed on Christ crucified, as revealed and offered to us in his Word; and by other Ordinances, yet this is proper and Serm. XXI. in the Lords Supper.

and peculiar to this Ordinance; for Believers to see and feed upon him, as he is represented and offered, and given in the appointed use of Bread and Wine.

And thus I have given you a plain and brief account of the Doctrine of the Lords Supper taught us by Christ in these words; and for your confirmation in the truth thereof, I shall commend three things to your serious consideration.

1. That for the Matter of this Feast, the Papists cannot with their Transubstantiation declare it to be greater, or more, or better than we do without it: For we say, Here is Christ and all that is purchased by his Blood, here is all that is revealed and conveyed to us from the infinite Love of God, by the Covenant of Grace; here is God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost in Covenant with us, to pardon our sins, and to bring us through Holiness unto Eternal Life and Happiness in Heaven.

2. For the Guests, or Communicants, we declare them to be the holy Society of true Believers, who are in Union with Christ as his blessed Bride, and Spouse, and Members.

3. We further declare, that all the glorious things of this Feast, are so far really present with these Guests, that their Souls do truly feed upon them, and are feasted with them, but there is no necessity of a local presence of the Objects of the Soul with the Faculties, to make up this Feast; but Believers are here feasted by the remembrance of Christ's Death, which is above 1600 years past, and by their hopes of Glory in Heaven, and at the Day of Judgement, which is to come; and in seeing by Faith the crucified and glorified Body of Christ in that place and Order which the Scriptures reveal it to them, though his blessed Body be at a local distance from them. And so according to this Doctrine you see sufficient reason in all thankfulness to acknowledge, that the Lords Supper is such a Feast as is for the honour of the great Jehovah, to entertain his beloved Children and Friends with all on Earth, till he call them to feast for ever with him in Heaven, without the use of Bread and Wine.

Secondly, I proceed to acquaint you with the Popish Doctrine of Transubstantiation, which the Papists pretend to receive from Christ in these words: This Transubstantiation is declared in the Council of Trent thus. (a) That by the consecration of the Bread and Wine, there is made a Conversion of the whole substance of the Bread, into the substance of the Body of Christ, and a conversion of the whole substance of the Wine into the substance of his Blood, which conversion the catholic Church doth fully and properly call Transubstantiation. And if any shall say, that in the Sacrament of the Eucharist, the substance of the Bread and Wine do remain, and shall deny this wonderfull and singular conversion of the whole substance of the Bread into the Body, and of the whole substance of the Wine into the Blood of Christ, the species of the Bread and Wine only

There is no Transubstantiation

only remaining, which conversion the catholic Church doth very suitably call Transubstantiation: Let him be accursed.

But, faith Solomon, Prov. 26. 2. As the bird by wandering, and as the Swallow by flying, so the curse carelessly shall not come; And therefore let them curse, but Lord bless thou, Psal. 109. 28. For in defiance of their brutish Execrations, I do with detestation deny this monstrous, and blasphemous Doctrine; and do therefore proceed to the Third particular, to prove, That there is no Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper, which I shall prove by these following Arguments.

First Argument. The Scripture is not for Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper, but is fully against it, and condemns it; we have only the words of Papists for it, but there is not one tittle of the good Word of God for it; but although there is no Ordinance of Worship more fully and plainly delivered from Christ in the Scriptures, than this of the Lords Supper, yet therein is not the least Foundation for Transubstantiation, but God faith in effect of it as he did of that abomination of the Jews, Jerem. 7. 31. --which I commanded not, neither came it into my heart; and if it came not into Gods heart, God forbid that it should ever come into our hearts.

That the Scripture is not for, but against Transubstantiation, will appear by examining those Scriptures, which our Adversaries alledge for it; and they are principally these two, viz. The words in the Text, This is my body, this cup is my blood: and Job, 6. where our Saviour hath a large Discourse of eating his flesh, and drinking his blood: Now I shall vindicate both these Scriptures from the fence of the Papists, and make it appear, that there is not in them the least warrant for Transubstantiation.

I shall begin with the first, which they chiefly insist upon; and here take notice that their whole Doctrine of Transubstantiation is contained in these seven particulars, all which they pretend to prove from these words, This is my body, this cup is my blood.

1. They say that consecration of the Bread and Wine is made by these words only. (a)

2. That by vertue of these words, the substance of the Bread and Wine are turned into the Body and Blood of Christ: and this is their Transubstantiation.

3. That after these words are pronounced by the Priest, there is no substance of the Bread and Wine remaining in the Lords Supper.

4. That the species or Accidents only of the Bread and Wine do remain in the Lords Supper, and these do signify the spiritual Feast, and are essential to this Sacrament. (b)

5. That by vertue of these words, the very material Body and Blood of Christ are locally and corporally present in the Lords Supper, and are contained under these species or Accidents of Bread and Wine. (c)

6. That

Serm. XXI. in the Lords Supper.

6. That with these species or Accidents of the Bread and Wine, the true, material Body and Blood of Christ are taken into the Mouths and Stomachs of the Communicants, and corporally eaten and drunk by them. (d)

Utr. That the plain and necessary sense of these words, This is my body, is this, viz. This Substantice contained under the Accidents of Bread and Wine, is my Body. (e)

Now I shall make it appear, that all these are Popish Inventions, contrary to the mind of Christ in the words, and for that end I shall speak briefly in confession of each of them.

(i.) To the first I say, that Confecration of the Bread and Wine is not made by these words, This is my body, this cup is my blood; but it is made by the Blessing of the Bread and Wine by Christ and his Ministers.

1. That Confecration is not made by these words is evident, because these words do speak of Bread and Wine already confecrated, or else they cannot be true; for it cannot be said truly of any Bread and Wine in the World, this is the Body, and this is the Blood of Christ, but only of blest and confecrated Bread and Wine.

2. That confecration is made by the blessing of the Bread and Wine is also manifest; for it is by the Blessing that they are made blest Bread, and blest Wine, or else the Blessing was in vain, and Christ and his Ministers were not heard in the Prayers and Thanksgivings which they offered to God for a Blessing on those Elements; but if men would be concluded by Scripture, the Apostle doth fully decide this controversy, 1 Cor. 10.16. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? &c. where we see plainly, that it is the blessing of the Bread and Vine which makes them the Communion of the Body and Blood of Christ.

(ii.) They say, that by vertue of these words, This is my body, this cup is my blood, the substancis of the Bread and Vine are turned into the Body and Blood of Christ, which conversion they call Transubstantiation.

I referre you to all my Arguments against Transubstantiation, to convince you of the falsity and odiousness of this sense, only here take notice, that this cannot be the meaning of the words, for the words declare what the Bread and Vine are, viz. what they signify, and not what they shall be when these words are pronounced, for it is not said, Let this Bread and Vine be turned into the Body and Blood of Christ, but This is my body, this cup is my blood, which words being an affirmation of a Truth, do affirm and report that which was a truth before the words are spoken, and not that which by the speaking of the words must be made true.

(iii.) They say, that after these words are pronounced by the Priest, there remains no substance of the Bread and Vine in the Lords Supper.
This is such a prodigious Error, that they may as well say, that God would have all men turn Infidels and mad men, and go out of their senses to become Christians: but I shall here only give you three Reasons against this Opinion, wherunto I shall add more in the following Discourse.

1. If these words destroy the substance of the Bread and VVine out of the Lords Supper, then Jesus Christ did by these words frustrate and make void his own blessing of the Bread and VVine; and so did cross his own will in praying for the Blessing, and his Fathers will in granting his prayer, for according to this Opinion, when Jesus Christ by Prayer and Thanksgiving had blessed the Bread and VVine, he presently utters words which makes them neither Bread and VVine, nor blessed; and thus they make Christ curse his own blessing.

2. That Bread and VVine are in the Lords Supper, appears, because Jesus Christ himself did in this Ordinance administer Bread and VVine to his Disciples, and that with a command to them, to take, and eat, and drink Bread and VVine; which command the Disciples obeyed, and did accordingly take, and eat, and drink them: for proof of this, weigh the words: Jesus took Bread, and blessed, and brake, and gave to his Disciples, and said, Take, eat, this is my body: In like manner he took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it, for this is my blood; &c. Now Bellarmine (a) himself faith, "That it cannot be doubted, but all these words, He took Bread, he blessed and "brake, and gave to his Disciples; referre to the same matter of bread "which was in his hands. Seeing then that in our Saviours administration of the Lords Supper to his Disciples, which is the standing Rule and Pattern to all Ministers and Christians to the end of the world, we find Christ himself administering bread and wine, and fee bread and wine passing in this Ordinance from Christ to his Disciples, and Christ commanding them to eat and drink them; for what he gave, he commanded them to take and eat and drink; and they did accordingly take and eat the Bread, and take and drink the Wine. What prodigious folly and wickedness is this, to deny that Bread and Wine are in the Lords Supper?"

3. The Apostle Paul himself doth no less than three times call it Bread after consecration, and likewise tells us, that the Communicants do eat the bread, and drink the cup. See v. 26, 27, 28. For as oft as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup; Whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. See Christians how the Papists do contradict and quarrel with the blessed Apostle: Paul faith, that the Communicants do oft eat this Bread, and drink this Wine in the Lords Supper: The Papists say, that they never eat bread, nor drink wine. Paul faith, Whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup; The Papists say, No man doth ever eat this bread, nor drink this cup. Paul faith, Let
Serm. XXI. in the Lords Supper.

Let him eat this bread, and drink this cup: The Papists say, Let him not eat this bread, nor drink this cup. See, I say, the difference betwixt God and the Apostle on the one hand, and the Pope and Papists on the other hand; and choose whether ye will believe, for if God be to be believed before the Papists, there is bread and wine in the Lords Supper.

There are several Objections which the Papists make again this last Reason, I shall only instance in two of the chief of them.

1. Object. The Scripture calls it bread, because it was once bread, as after Moses his Rod was turn’d into a Serpent, it is still called a Rod, Exod. 7: 12. and after the water was turn’d into wine, yet it is still cal’d water, Job. 2. 9. So say they, after this bread is turned into the body of Christ it is still cal’d bread, because it was bread before this conversion was made.

Answ. The Scripture calls the Serpent a Rod, because that which was then a Serpent was before a Rod; and the Wine is called Water, because that which was then wine was water a little before; but Christ’s body never was bread, and therefore there is not the like Reason to call it bread.

2. Object. The Scripture often calls things not from their Nature, but from their outward Appearance to us. So the Angels that appeared to Abraham in the Likeness of Men are called Men, Gen. 18. and so because this hath the outward appearance of bread, therefore the Scripture calls it bread: This is Bellarmine’s Objection. (a) a Bellarm: de Eucar. lib 1. cap. 14.

Answ. As the Scripture calls it bread before consecration, because it is so, and hath the true Nature and Properties of bread, so it calls it bread after consecration, not because it is like bread, but because it is bread; for consecration doth bless the thing consecrated, but never destroys it: and therefore this Objection is vain, because these Angels never were Men, nor had the beings of men, but only appeared in the likeness of Men; but this has the true substance of bread before consecration, as our Adversaries grant, and hath the true substance of bread after consecration, as we have proved, and for that Reason both before and after the Scripture calls it bread.

(4.) They say, that the species or Accidents only of the bread and wine remain in the Lords Supper, and these do signify the body and blood of Christ, and are essential to this Sacrament: by species or Accidents is meant the colour, smell, sweetness, length, breadth, moisture, &c. of the bread and wine, and these, say they, ye see, taste, feel, smell, eat and drink, but ye do not see, nor taste, nor smell, nor touch, nor eat, nor drink Bread and Wine.

I shall only at present say two things against this Opinion:

1. This as our Divines well argue, is a plain contradiction, for the essence and being of Accidents is to be inherent in the Subjects which they are Accidents of, or else they subsist by themselves, and so are not Accidents.

Accidents but Substances; to instance in the present case: If there be whiteness, and redness, and length, and breadth, and heaviness, there must be some substance that is white, and red, and long, and broad, and heavy; or else the communicants must in the Lords Supper solemnly eat, and drink white, and red, and long, and broad, and heavy nothing.

2. There is the same Reason to deny that the accidents of Bread and Wine do remain in the Lords Supper, as to deny that the substance of them do remain there, for if these words, This is my body, this cup is my blood, do destroy the substance, certainly they must destroy the accidents too, for they are pronounced over the whole blessed bread and wine, and make no distinction between the substance and accidents, but speak the fame of both together. And therefore I shall here expostulate this case with our Adversaries thus: when our Lord Jesus blessed the bread and wine, did he bless the substance with one kind of blessing, and the accidents with another? did his blessing on the substance destroy it, and the fame blessing on the Accidents preserve them? Or when Christ said, This is my body, this cup is my blood, can they persuade themselves, that he therein said one thing of the substance, and another thing quite contrary of the accidents? So that by virtue of these words, the substance of bread and wine is turned into the body and blood of Christ, and the accidents of bread and wine are preserved without the substance, and appointed to signify his body and blood; or if by virtue of these words the substance be destroyed, by virtue of what words are the accidents preserved, and consecrated to a use quite contrary to the use of the substance? If they say, Their senses tell them, the Accidents remain there, we say and shall make it appear, that their senses and ours also tell us and them, that the substance with the accidents remain there also, and if Faith must conclude against the senses in the case of the substance, why must it not also conclude against the senses in the case of the accidents? but if again Scripture, and Reason, and Sense, the Papists will usurp a Power to keep and destroy what they please in this Sacrament, let us keep our Lords Supper, and let them take their Popes Supper.

(5.) They say, that by virtue of these words, the very material body and blood of Christ are locally and corporally present in the Lords Supper, and are contained under the Accidents of Bread and Wine.

I might plead many Arguments against this, but I must remember that I am limited in my work, and shall therefore give you only one Argument to convince you of the falseness and madness of this Opinion, and that is this.

Arg. If these words, This is my body, this cup is my blood, &c. do make the body and blood of Christ to be locally and corporally present in the Lords Supper, then his Body crucified and dead upon the cross, and his Blood there shed out of his veins, are locally and corporally present in the Lords Supper. Observe Christians where these mens Principles lead them; I know our Adversaries do confess, that the body of Christ is no where found dead since his Resurrection, and therefore faith Bellarmine,

(a) God doth not cause, nor ever will cause, to all Eternity, that the Body of Christ be any where found dead; yet I say, it doth necessarily follow this Doctrine, that his body is found dead upon the Cross, and his blood there shed in the Lords Supper; for if these words do make his body and blood locally and corporally present under the species of bread and wine as they affirm, then it must be his body and blood as these words do expressly declare, this is my body broken for you, this cup is my blood shed for the Remission of the sins of many; which words do clearly speak of his body crucified, and dead, and of his blood shed upon the Cross; and therefore the Apostle doth teach us, that in this Ordinance we do shew forth the Lords death; so that nothing can be more clear, than that by this Doctrine the bread and wine are turned into the dead body of Christ, and into his blood shed upon the Cross, and that his body crucified and dead upon the Cross, with his blood there shed, are locally and corporally present under the Accidents of bread and wine: And so by this Doctrine, Christ's body was really and actually dead upon the Cross, and so present under the Accidents of bread and wine, when at the first Institution and Administration of the Lords Supper, he said, This is my body given, or broken for you; and this is my blood shed, &c. And also in despite of the Apostle, that faith, Rom. 6. 9. Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more; his body must be dead upon the Cross, and so dead, must be locally and corporally present in the Lords Supper, under the Accidents of bread and wine, whosoever or wheresoever this Sacrament hath been, or shall be administered since his Resurrection to his coming to Judgement. And moreover, it must also follow from this Doctrine, that the very material Cross on which Christ was crucified, and all the Instruments of his Death, must be locally and corporally present at the Lords Supper, and the very Souldier that pierced him must be there present, piercing his side with a Spear; yea, the very hour of his Death, though so many years past, and the place of his death, so many miles distant, must be present in every time and place the Lords Supper is administered. Christians, these consequences are not forced, but these, and an hundred more such wild contradictions do necessarily follow this Doctrine, as appears to any who will but grant, that which cannot be denied, viz. That these words, This is my body which is broken for you, this cup is my blood shed for many, do directly point at the body of Christ crucified and dead upon the Cross, with the manner, and all the Instruments and circumstances of his death, as recorded by the Evangelists in the History of his Passion.

(6.) They say, that with these species or Accidents of bread and wine, the true material body and blood of Christ are taken into the mouths and stomachs of the Communicants, and corporally eaten and drunk by them.

I have three things to say against this odious and barbarous Doctrine.
1. It afferts that which is impossible.
2. That which is unprofitable both to Soul and Body.
3. That which is impious and flagitious.

First, This Opinion afferts a multitude of impossibilities and contradictions, and that in a very great and weighty point of Religion; now that ye may understand the strength of these kind of Arguments, take notice, That when two things are affirmed that are altogether inconstant, so that one of them fully destroyes the truth of the other; and if one be true, the other must necessarily be false; this is an impossibility, or contradiction; as to affirm, that the same man is dead and alive at the same time, is a contradiction, because he cannot be dead of a natural death, and live a natural life at the same time. Now I lay in this Opinion of corporal eating the body, and drinking the blood of Jesus Christ, is a multitude of most horrid contradictions, which are found in three cases.

1. In the case of Jesus Christ, his eating and drinking the Lords Supper, for our Adveraries agree with us, that Jesus Christ did eat and drink the Lords Supper.
2. In the case of the Disciples, at the first Administration of this Ordinance.
3. In the case of all Communicants ever after.

(1.) In the case of Jesus Christ, his eating and drinking the Lords Supper; I shall here onely instance in three plain and grosse contradictions.

1. That Jesus Christ, did with his body eat his own whole body, and yet his body continue as it was before whole and uneaten, and so the same body was eaten and not eaten at the same time, and the Eater and that which is eaten is every way the same, and that which was eaten did eat the body, which was the Eater of it, in the same Action, and at the same time.
2. That the same sacred body of Jesus Christ was in all its dimensions and proportions, fitting at the Table in the view of his Disciples, and yet was at the same time in his own mouth and stomach, and so either this one body of Christ was multiplyed into two, viz. one within the other; or else the same whole body, and flesh, and bones, was inclosed in a little part of his own body.
3. That Jesus Christ did drink his own precious blood, and that the same material blood of Christ—was shed, and was in the cup, and did pass out of the cup into the mouth and stomach of our Lord, and yet at the same time his blood not shed, neither did move out of his veins. These are most filthy, odious, and hideous contradictions.

(2.) There are many contradictions in the case of the Disciples, who by this Doctrine are said corporally to eat and drink the material Body and Blood of Christ, at the Institution and first Administration of the Lords Supper: For either they did eat and drink his body and blood, as he was then alive, before his death; or as dead and crucified with his blood shed on the Cross; or as glorified in Heaven, or as all these together. Now in every one of these there are many horrid contradictions.

1. If they say, that they did eat and drink his body and blood as he was alive before his death, then there are these two contradictions therein.

First, That his whole body was sitting at the Table with his Discipies, and also in the Mouths and Stomachs of his Disciples at the same time, and so every Disciple had the same whole body in his Stomach, which they all saw sitting before them at the Table.

Secondly, That his Blood was shed out of his body, and taken into the mouths and stomachs of his Disciples, and yet not shed but continued within his own body at the same time.

2. If they did eat his body dead and crucified upon the Cross, and and corporally drink his blood there shed; then his body was dead and crucified on the Cross, and dead in their Stomachs, and alive at the Table at the same time.

3. If they did corporally eat his glorified body, and drink the blood of his glorified body; then his body was glorified in Heaven after his death, and as such was in the Disciples Stomachs, and yet at the same time was upon Earth in the state of his Humiliation before his death.

4. If they did eat his body and drink his blood as alive, and dead and glorified, and so considered altogether; then his body was really alive before his death, and dead upon the Cross, and glorified in Heaven, and in all these cases, in the Mouths and Stomachs of his Disciples at the same time. These and many such blasphemous Contradictions are in the Disciples corporally eating the body, and drinking the blood of Jesus Christ.

(3.) There are also many plain and horrid contradictions in the case of all Communicants eating and drinking the body and blood of Christ, under the species of Bread and Wine, since the Institution and first Administration of this Ordinance. I shall only instance in this one.

That one and the same body of Christ which is a finite being, should be wholly in Heaven, and at the same time wholly under the Accidents of Bread and Wine in the Lords Supper, wheroever it is administered, and no where else in the World, and that this one body in Heaven should be wholly present with these Accidents, in all the Mouths of the many thousand Communicants in Rome, Spain, France, England, and in all other parts of the World where this Sacrament is administered; doth speak as many Contradictions as there are communicants in the world, and all as impossible, as it is for the same particular man to be preaching in a Pulpit at Rome, and at the same time to be preaching the same Sermon in all the Pulpits of the World. And thus I have shewed you, that this corporal eating the Body, and drinking the Blood of Jesus Christ with the species or Accidents of bread and Wine, is impossible.

Secondly, It is unprofitable, and doth neither good to Soul nor Body. This appears by our Saviours words, Joh. 6. 63. The flesh profitteth nothing. That is, the corporal eating the flesh of Christ profitteth nothing; and that this is our Saviours meaning, is evident; because it is the design of our Saviour in the foregoing words, to shew the Necessity, and the great Profit and Advantage of eating and drinking the body and blood of Christ spiritually by Faith; the Necessity hereof is expressed, Ver. 53. Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no Life in you; and this (faith Christ) is Profitable, as the Means of our Union with him, Ver. 56. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him; and is also profitable to Eternal Life, and Happiness, Ver. 54. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath Eternal Life, and I will raise him up at the last day. Now the Jews were startled at his words, understanding that he meant a corporal eating of his flesh, and therefore say they, Ver. 52. How can this man give us his flesh to eat? This was such a Mistake as that of Nicodemus, Joh. 3. 3, 4. who when our Saviour spake of the Necessity of being born again, he wondered, and said, How can an old man be born? can he enter the second time into his Mothers womb, and be born? And the Disciples themselves understanding our Saviour in that grofs and carnal sense of corporal eating his flesh, were offended, and said, v. 6. This is an hard saying, who can hear it? And therefore Christ explains his words, ver. 63. It is the Spirit that quickeneth, the Flesh profitteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you are spirit, and are life. That is, my words as you mistake them for a corporal eating my flesh, and drinking my blood, are not true; for the eating my flesh so profitteth nothing, but that eating my flesh, and drinking my blood by Faith in a spiritual manner, will make you blessed for ever; and so my words which I speak of this matter, are Spirit, and they are Life; and hereby it is manifest to all but such who study to corrupt and pervert the Scriptures, that our Saviour himself tells us, that corporal eating his flesh, and drinking his blood, is altogether unprofitable. And I say it neither doth good to Body nor Soul.

1. It doth no good to the body, for it doth neither gratifie the Palate, nor allay or satisfy hunger or thirst, nor turns into any bodily nourishment, and so hast no use or property of bodily food.

2. It doth no good to the Souls, either of the Wicked, or of the Godly.

(1) It doth no good to the Souls of the Wicked, as our Adversaries themselves confess; and yet they will have this glorious body and precious blood of Christ to be taken corporally into the blasphemous mouths, and into the open Sepulchres of the throats of Swearers, and into the beastly beastly mawes or stomachs of Drunkards and Gluttons; and within the dead bodies of Whoremongers and Harlots, and there to lodge till the Accidents of bread and wine be digested, and then to remove no body knowes whither, leaving the cursed Inhabitants no better than he found them.

(2) Neither doth this corporal eating the flesh, or drinking the blood of Christ do any good to the Souls of the Godly, it kills no Sin, begets or quickens no Grace, yields no comfort, and indeed is not defirable to any wise and holy Christian, who never hungerers and thirstes to have the body and blood of Christ in his mouth and stomach: Neither is it Christ's way by entering into the mouths, and going down into the stomachs of his People to feed and feast their Souls; but Christ is spiritually formed in their hearts, Gal. 4. 19. and the Spirit doth glorifie Christ in them, Job. 16. 14. and by the word and Sacraments their souls are feated with the remembrance of his death, and with feeing him by faith crowned with honour and glory in heaven, Heb. 2. 9. and in their joyfull expectation of all the benefits of his death and resurrection, and interceffion in the holy and blessed world; but the bodies of believers shall never meet the body of Christ till they meet the Lord in the air, and so to be for ever with the Lord, 1 Thes. 4. 17. but for this doctrine of the corporal presence of Christ in the mouths and stomachs of men which the frantick Papilts would make us believe, it is a doctrine fitter to make our hairs stand an end, than to feed our souls, and is good for nothing, but to make the Popifh Religion odious to all wise, and sober Christians.

Thirdly, I have this further to charge on this doctrine, that it teacheth a practice most horribly impious and flagitious: for to feed on mans flesh, and to drink mans blood was ever accounted a most barbarous trangreflion of all the rules of piety and humanity, and therefore this must be the height of that kind of impiety, to eat the sacred flesh, and to drink the precious blood of Christ in a corporal manner, which the Popifh Canibals teach men to practice; and which they pretend to prove both from the Text, and from Job. 6. Against which odious fence, holy Ansfin pleads the same Argument, which I now use, saying, (a) "If there be a Precept forbidding Sin, and commanding Good, it is not then a figu-rate speech, but if it seem to command a horrible wickedness, or forbid that which is profitable, then it is a figurative speech; and he gives this Example in Job. 6. 33. Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man---- This (faith he) seems to command a most heinous wickedness, and therefore it is a figurative speech, commending us to communicate with the sufferings of our Lord, and sweetly and profitably to lay up this in our memories, that his flesh was crucified, and wounded for us.

But the Papilts proceed in their Blasphemy, and are not ashamed to tell us, that if Dogs, or Mice, or Rats, or Worms, do eat the confecrated Host, they do therewith eat the body of Christ; and therefore according to their Wisdom they have provided in their Miffal, (b) That if Rats,

F f f 2 or Worms, do eat the body of Christ, they must be burned; what for Heretics? because their senses took it only for Bread; but if their Host be not God, why do they worship him with Divine Worship? and if he be God, why will they cast their God into the fire?

And Tho. Aquinas their Angelical Doctor, as they call him, (and of whom they tell us this tale, that his Doctrine of the Sacrament was confirmed by this Miracle; a Wooden Crucifix miraculously saluted him with these words, Bene scriptisti de me Thomas, Thou hast written well of me Thomas) doth affert and plead for this dirty Ribaudry, saying, (c) That it doth no more detract from the Dignity of Christ to be eaten by Dogs and Mice, than his being willing to be crucified for our Sins. A goodly Argument for such an acute Schoolman; as if because Jesus Christ in the state of his Humiliation was willing to be crucified for our sins, therefore in the state of his Exaltation, he is willing that his glorified body in Heaven should be eaten by Dogs and Mice: but thus they talk, as if their Doctors had sate in the Council with Devils in the Gates of Hell, to debauch the Faith of Chriftians, and to disgrace the body of Christ.

Laftly, They say, that the plain and necessary fence of these words,
This is my Body, is this, this substance contained under the Accidents of Bread is my Body.

What I have already spoken to the former particulars doth fully conclude against this fence; and yet I shall here add two things against it.

1. That this fence is inconsistent with their own Doctrine.

2. That it is repugnant to the true, and plain, and necessary fence of Christ in the words,

(i) That this fence is inconsistent with their own Doctrine, appears in two particulars.

1. In their forcing two different, and both false fences on these words,
This is my body, viz. this substance contained under the Accidents of bread is my body, and these Accidents of Bread do signify my body; and so the word This must both mean, this substance, viz. Christ’s body, and also these Accidents of Bread, and the word is must both be is properly and essentially my body, and is figuratively and significatively the Sign of my body.

I know Bellarmine (d) sometimes grants, that it is truly most absurd, to say that by the word This, is meant these Accidents: yet the same Bellarmine tells, (e) “That the Accidents of Bread and Wine do signifie the Spiritual Feast, meaning as he explains himself, the body and blood of Christ, and that the Accidents of bread and wine, as well as the body and blood of Christ, do pertain to the essence of this Sacrament: Now that they force this fence on these words, is clear, because all their pretended Miracles in the Lords Supper, whereof the preserving the Accidents without the Substance is one, are with them effected by vertue of these these words, and also because Consecration, one Effect whereof must be to consecrate the Accidents of bread, to signify the Body of Chrift, is in their fence made by these words: So that it is evident, that they diſtort these words, This is my body, to both theſe fences, this Substance contained under the Accidents of bread is my body; and theſe Accidents of bread do signify my body; which are fo incoſſistent, that all the Rope of Popes, can never be able to tie theſe together.

2. This fence is incoſſident with their Doctrine, which teacheth, that the Subſtance of the bread is turned into the body of Chrift by vertue of theſe words: And faith Bellarmine, (f) in the laſt moment when all theſe words are ſpoken, then this Conversion is made; now to ſay, that the Conversion of the Bread into the body of Chrift is not made till all theſe words are ſpoken, and yet to ſay, that the first word this doth demonstrate Chrifts body, are plainly incoſſident.

(2.) I proceed to prove, that this fence is repugnant to the true and plain, and necessary fence of Chrift in the words: for which purpose obſerve that excellent Rule of holy Augustine, (g) "It is as maſſiſent an "Error in the explication of Scripture to take Figurative words proper"ly, as to wrest thofe words which are properly ſpoken, into a Tropi"cal or figurative fence: By both which wayes of perverting the holy Scriptures, multitude of Hereſies have troubled the Church of God.
And this Doctrine of Transubſtation, with all the mischiefs in Doctrine, Worſhip and Practice, which attend it, proceed from the Papists interpreting theſe words, This is my body, in a literal and proper fence, which must be underſtood in a figurative fence: The hinge of the preſent controversie is turned upoſt theſe two words, this is; now I ſhall make it appear, that by the word this is meant this Bread, and that by the word is, must be meant, is a ſign, or doth signify, and fo that the true fence of our Saviour in the words is this, viz. This bread is a ſign of my body, or this bread doth signify or repreſent my body.

That by the word this, is meant this bread, appears by three Rea-wh 1. By the Order and Course of the words, by which it is plain, that of that bread, which Jeſus took, and bleffed, and brake, and commanded his Disciples to cat, he ſaid, This is my body.

2. Because Jeſus Chrift faith expressly of the Cup which he took, and bleſſed, and gave and commanded them to Drink, This Cup is the New Testament. So faſy Luke and Paul in the Text; therefore we muſt conclude, that of the bread, which he took, and bleſſed, and brake, and gave, &c. he faith in effect, This bread is my body.

3. St. Pauls Interpretation of the words may fully convince all, that the word this doth demonstrate the Bread, 1 Cor. 10. 16. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chrift?
the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chrift?
which ſpeak the fame thing though in other words, as this bread is the body

body of Christ, this Cup is the blood of Christ; so that it is clear, that by the word this, is meant this bread.

Secondly, Hence it follows, that the word is, cannot be taken properly, but must mean, is a sign, or doth signify or represent; it cannot be taken properly, for bread and the body of Christ are two Substances essentially different, and therefore it cannot be properly said, that bread is essentially Christ's body. (a) But this is a sure Rule, that when the word is stands between the sign and the thing signified, then it must mean is a sign, or signifies, or represents. And this is the present case, the blessed bread is a sign of Christ's Body, and therefore the meaning of Christ must be, This bread signifies or representeth my Body, according to that known saying of Augustine: (b) Christ doubted not to say, This is my body, when he gave the sign of his body.

Observe yet further, That whereas there is no Example in all the Scripture, of a Sign being turned into the thing signified, yet it is very ordinary in Scripture-similitudes, to give a thing the Name of that whereunto it is likened; I am the Rose of Sharon, and the Lilly of the Valleys, Cant. 2. I am the living bread, Job. 6. I am the door, Job. 10. I am the true Vine, Joh. 15. All these faith Christ of himself, but is he therefore turned into a Rose or Lilly, or Bread, or Door, or Vine; no, the words taken literally and properly, are blasphemy; but the meaning is, he is like these, as to the particular cases whereof he speaks.

So the Scripture ordinarily gives to Signs the Names of the things signified, Genes. 40. 12. The three branches are three days, v. 18. The three baskets are three days; and of such things we have a multitude of Examples. And thus the Holy Ghost gives to Sacramental signs, the names of the things signified by them. Circumcision is called the Covenant, whereof it was a Sign and Seal, Gen. 17. 13. the Lamb is called the Pasover, Exod. 12. 11. and so in the Text the bread is called Christ's body, and the wine his blood, because they are Signs, and a Seal to signify and convey Christ, with the benefits of his body broken, and of his blood shed for us. And thus I have proved, that this Scripture is not for, but against Transubstantiation, in all the branches of it.

The other Scripture which they allege for Transubstantiation, is our Saviours discourse of eating his flesh, and drinking his blood, in Joh. 6. And Bellarmine (c) pretends to prove that Doctrine from v. 51. of that chapter, almost to the end of the Chapter.

To this I say, that I do readily grant, that the flesh and blood of Christ here spoken of, which include the benefits of his death, is the spiritual matter of the Feast of the Lords Supper; and that Believers are here required to feast their Souls by Faith on the body and blood of Christ, and on all the benefits of his death, in all those waves which God is pleased to offer it to them: And therefore though the Lords Supper be since instituted, yet they are bound by this Scripture to feed on the body and blood of Christ in that Ordinance, in the appointed use of bread and wine.
wine. But yet this Scripture also is fully against Transubstantiation, and the corporeal presence of the body and blood of Christ, under the Accidents of Bread and Wine, and the Communicants eating and drinking the same;
and this appears by these three Reasons.

I. Because as I have proved, our Saviour tells us, that his flesh, viz. the corporeal eating his flesh profiteath nothing ver. 63.

II. Because the eating the flesh and drinking the blood of Christ here spoken of, is of absolute necessity to salvation; v. 53. Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink his blood ye have no life in you, but though none can be happy who do not eat the flesh and drink the blood of Christ in the sense of this Scripture, yet our adversaries do not deny, but many have eternal life who never eat and drank the Lords Supper.

III. Because Eternal life is certainly settled and entail'd on all those who do eat the flesh and drink the blood of Christ in the sense of this Scripture, ver. 54. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day; and yet the Papists tell us that wicked men may corporally eat the flesh and drink the blood of Christ;
so that the Popish eating the flesh and drinking the blood of Christ, and that eating his flesh and drinking his blood, which our Saviour here speaks of, are as farre different as heaven and hell.

2. Argument. It is impossible that this Transubstantiation should be in the Lords Supper, this is evident by the nature of the thing: for who so understands the nature of this act of Transubstantiation, and the terms thereof, viz. the bread and wine, which are the things that are turned, and the body and blood of Christ into which this bread and wine are turned, must clearly see that as hereby the bread and wine must be taken away, so the body and blood of Christ must be hereby made and produc'd: and therefore in their Lexit of the Sacrament they doe invocate it thus; panis omnipotenti Dei caro satius miserere nobis: O Bread which by the Almighty power of God art made flesh have mercy upon us, implying that the flesh and body of Christ is made by this Transubstantiation, and thus by this blasphemous contradiction they make the substance of the glorious body of Christ, so long since born of the Virgin, to be the birth of this prodigious monster of Transubstantiation; now I say it is impossible to make that which was made before, to do that by an act which was done before the act, its impossible for the effect to be before the cause, and its impossible for bread of a few hours old to be turn'd into the substance of the body of Christ, which was continually of the same substance for above a 1600 years before.

And therefore though these blasphemers seem devoutly to adore the Almighty power of God, which by this conversion hath wrought suppendum [supra omnia miraculum, the most stupendious of all miracles, as they invocate it in the same Lettany of the Sacrament; yet all in effect that they can say is this, that the great God out of his infinite love to his Church hath in this blessed ordinance of the Lords Supper by many astonishing miracles done just nothing, and thus they most pro-phanely

Serm. XXI.

phaneily abuse the fearfull name of God in ascribing a work to his dread-full omnipotency, which is beneath the power of his meaneft creature, viz. to make that which was made before, which indeed cannot be a work of any power at all. I know some learned men of the Church of Rome do undertake to decline this impossibility and contradiction, and yet to defend this doctrine of Transubstantiation as defin'd in the Council of Trent, and therefore Bellarmine with many of his brethren the Jesuites to avoid the aforesaid impossibility; explains this action of Transubstantiation thus, that the conversion of the bread into the body of Christ, non esse prodjectum sed adductum, that it is not such a conversion that produceth the body of Christ, for that was extant before, but it is such a conversion, whereby the body of Christ which was before in heaven, is now (yet without any local motion from heaven) made present under the accidents of bread in the Lords Supper. But whilst their champion by another contradiction (in making the same body of Christ, which is in heaven to be under the accidents of bread on earth, and yet without receiving any new being or moving from heaven to earth) pleads for Transubstantiation, he destroyes both the name, and nature of it: He destroys the name of it, for that conversion, which he speaks of, may be call'd a Desubstantiation or destruction of the bread, and a translocation, or transposition of the body of Christ, whereby it is placed where it was not before, but can by no means bear the name of Transubstantiation, which (faith the Council of Trent) the Catholick Church doth very fitly and properly give it.

Again he destroyes the nature of Transubstantiation, for in every substantial conversion, whereby one substance is turned into another, the latter is alwaies produc'd, and receives being upon the destruction of the former, as when Moses his rod was turned into a serpent, Exod. 4, had God only destroy'd the substance of the rod, and set a Serpent, that was extant before in the place of it, this had not been a turning the rod into a Serpent. So when at the marriage-feast, John 2, Christ turn'd water into wine, had God only destroyed the substance of the water, and set wine that was extant before in some wine-fellar, and plac'd it in the water-pots, this had not been a turning water into wine; but the true substance of the serpent, and the true substance of the wine were by those miraculous conversions made and produc'd, and so if the true substance of the bread and wine be miraculously turn'd into the substance of the body and blood of Christ, as the Council of Trent will have it, upon the destruction of the substance of the bread and wine, there must necessarily be produc'd the substance of the body and blood of Christ, as the effect and product of that conversion: and notwithstanding all the noise which our adversaries make in the Christian world, about this matter, they must either affer this monstrous impossibility, and contradiction, or disclaim their own doctrine of Transubstantiation.

3 Argument. This doctrine of Transubstantiation destroyes the Lords Supper, my reason is, because this doctrine takes away those sacred signs of of bread and wine, which God hath appointed to be of absolute necessity to the being of this Sacrament, and if these be taken away there is no such thing as the Lords Supper in the world.

Our Adversaries grant, that its necessary to the being of a Sacrament, that there be a sensible, and sacred sign, and that must signify a sacred and holy thing, and this sign must be of Gods institution.(a)

Now the sign or signs in this Sacrament of the Lords Supper, must be one of these three things.

1. It must be either the body and blood of Christ.
2. Or it must be the accidents of bread and wine.
3. Or it must be true bread and wine.

I. It cannot be the body and blood of Christ, for these are not sensible, and they are the things signified, and therefore they cannot be the signs.

II. It cannot be the Accidents of bread and wine, though Bellarmin, as I have shewed, makes these to signify the body and blood of Christ, and so to be essential to this Sacrament; but this cannot be, for two Reasons.

1. Because, as I have proved, the accidents without the substance are nothing, and so can signify nothing, and therefore can be no signs.

2. Every Sacramental sign must be (as our adversaries confess) of Gods institution, now God never ordained the accidents of bread and wine without the substance to signify the body and blood of Christ; if he did, either they must be consecrated to this use by virtue of these words, this is my body, this cup is my blood, &c. or these words must declare them to be of this use, but our adversaries dare not stand to either of these, for then they must yield, that the meaning of these words is, the accidents of bread and wine are signes of, or do signify the body and blood of Christ, but that by the word this is meant these accidents, Bellarmin as I have shewed, denies, and that the word is, doth denote is a sign or doth signify, they will by no means admit, because it doth justify our fence of that word, as speaking of the bread and wine; and overthrows all their Disputations to prove that the word is, must not be taken in a figurative but proper fence, and indeed overthrows their whole Doctrine of Transubstantiation. So that it's manifest, that neither Christ's body and blood, nor the Accidents of bread and wine can be the Signs in this Sacrament.

3. It remains therefore, that the true bread and wine, must be the only facred and appointed Signs of the body and blood of Christ in the Lords Supper; and that therefore the Papists in destroying the bread and wine, do utterly destroy this blessed Sacrament, and tear off this facred Seal from the Covenant of Grace, and rob the Church of God, of the body and blood of Christ, and of all the benefits of his Death, as signified and conveyed to them by this Ordinance.

4. Argument. Those Miracles which the Papists affirm to be wrought by by Transubstantiation in the Lords Supper, are all false and feigned. In pursuance of this Argument, I shall

First, Repeat some of those Miracles which are laid to be wrought by this Act of Transubstantiation.
Secondly, Prove them to be false and feigned.

(1.) I shall only repeat Four of their pretended Miracles.

1. That the Substance of the bread and wine is turned into the body and blood of Christ, and yet his body and blood were extant above a thousand years before the bread and wine were in being.

2. That the Substance of the bread and wine is destroyed, and the Accidents made to remain without the Substance, and yet no sensible difference made between the natural Properties of this blessed bread and wine, and all other bread and wine in the world, wherein the Substance continues with the Accidents.

3. That at the first Administration of this Sacrament, the Body of Christ should be in all its compleat parts, head, arms, limbs, and all his flesh and bones at the Table, and there seen and to be felt, and yet the same body, at the same time in the mouths and stomachs of his Disciples, and they not have the least fence of it.

4. That the same body of Christ should be glorified in Heaven, and at the same time, be in the mouths and stomachs of all the Communicants in the world, and be with those Accidents of bread, wherefoever they are, and no where else, and yet not move from Heaven to Earth, nor from one place of the Earth to another, and still be one and the same body.

(2.) I say, these and all such are feigned and false Miracles, as appears by these fix Reasons.

1. Because, Though they are pretended to be the stupendious and miraculous works of the Almighty power of God, yet are they no Miracles at all, but impossibilities and contradictions, as I have proved, and so are nothing, and are not works of so much power as for a Worm to creep, and a Grasshopper to leap.

2. Because, No Miracles were ever wrought upon sensible Creatures, but the change made by them was discerned, or at least discernible by the senses of men, for whose sake they were wrought: The Serpent which Moses his Rod was turn'd into, the Wine which the Water was turn'd into, and all the Miracles wrought by Moses in Egypt, with all other such Miracles recorded in Scripture, not one excepted, were perceived by the senses: and so if one sensible Creature be turn'd into another sensible Creature, that which the former is turn'd into must be made sensible, or if a sensible Creature be turn'd into an insensible, that which is so turned must pass out of the reach of the senses, and become insensible. And therefore there is no such Miracle wrought as is here pretended, because here is sensible bread and wine, and the senses of men do
3. Because God never fettleth such a Power on any order of men, for every one in that Order, to have in all Ages a constant power to work Miracles, and yet by this Doctrine of Transubstantiation, every Priest doth carry about him a power to work more and greater Miracles than ever were wrought by Christ and his Apostles.

4. Because God never set up any stated Ordinance in the Church for the working of Miracles, nor bound himself upon any mans using any Scripture words, alwais to work Miracles; and yet the Papists will have God alwais bound to work Miracles, upon every Priests rightly pronouncing in the Lords Supper these words, This is my body.

5. God never gave men a power to work Miracles on the glorified body of Christ: Moses had power to divide the waters of the Red Sea, Exod. 14. 21. and Joshua had once power to say to the Sun and Moon, Sun stand thou still upon mount Gibeon, and thou Moon in the valley of Ajelon, Josh. 10. 12. and the Disciples had power to cast out Devils, Math. 10. 8. and Christ tells his Disciples, Math. 17. 20. If ye have Faith as a grain of Mustard-seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence into yonder place, and it shall remove: but for every dirty Priest to practise such a miraculous power upon the glorified body of Christ, as upon the using of these words, This is my body, to call it to be locally and corporally present in all the mouths and stomachs of all the Communicants at the Lords Supper; is such a Papish Dream, as exceeds all the fanatick Enthusiasmes in the world, but can never be reckoned in the number of any true Divine Miracles.

6. All these pretended Miracles are of no use, and to no purpose, as to the ends of this Ordinance; but without them we have the body and blood of Christ, with all the benefits of his Death represented, and communicated to us, and so do attain all the ends of this Sacrament in the appointed use of this blessed bread and wine.

5 Argument. The Doctrine of Transubstantiation is false, because all the senses of all men in the world do testify, that bread and wine remain in the Lords Supper after Consecration, and this testimony is true: That all the senses of all men in the world, who are in their senses, and know what bread and wine are, and have them so placed that the senses may perceive them, do testify that this is bread and wine, is not denied; but that which is denied, and I am to prove, is, that this Testimony of the Senses is true, and that I prove by these four Reasons.

1. Because by this testimony a man hath the same evidence, that bread and wine remain in the Lords Supper after consecration, as he hath that there are any visible or sensible Creatures in the world; for if when a man sees, and toucheth, and tasteth, and finells bread and wine, and hears the wine poured out, he cannot truly know, and upon his knowledge by his senses, truly say, that what he sees, and tasteth, and toucheth,
There is no Transubstantiation

and smells, and hears, is bread and wine; he cannot upon his knowledge by his senses truely say, that there is a Sun, or Moon, or Starres, or Men, or Birds, or Beasts, or Trees, or Stones, or Earth, or Water, or any bread and wine in the world; for the senses cannot give him a more full and sure evidence of the being of any of these Creatures, than they do of the being of bread and wine in the Lords Supper.

2. Because, if the testimony of the senses be not true, then all that Religion which is founded on Godds manifesting himself by the Creatures, to the Understandings of men, in the use of their Senses, is not a true Religion, but is quite extinguished out of the world, and so there is no Law of Nature binding men truely to know, and love, and prayse God, as he is manifested in the Creatures; and then it is no sin at all for men to take no notice of the glory of God, which the Heavens, and Earth, and Day, and Night, declare to them, Psal. 19. And then the Apostles words are not true, in telling us, That the eternal Power and Godhead are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, Rom. 1.20. For if by the use of our senses we cannot know, that these things are true, then we neither can, nor are bound to know and honour, and love the Wisdom, and Power, and Goodness of God in them.

3. If the testimony of the Senses be not true, we have no certainty of the Christian Religion; for we cannot know there is a Bible, or letters, or words in it; or that there is a Church, or any such Society of Believers, or that there are Ministers, or Sermons, or Sacraments in the world, for all these are perceived by our senses.

4. If our Saviours Argument was good, to prove that by his flesh and bones, perceived by the senses, he was no Spirit, Luk. 24.39. Behold my hands and my feet, handle me and see. Then this Argument is also good, behold, handle, taste and smell, and thereby judge if there be not a sensible Substance, and this particular Substance of bread and wine in the Lords Supper.

There are two main Objections which the Papists make against this Argument, which I shall answer, and so proceed.

1 Object. Senses do not indeed erre in their testimony of their own Objects; but Accidents only, and not Substances, are the Objects of the Senses, and therefore the testimony of the senses concerning Substances is not to be trusted.

Answer. If so, then we can judge of no Substance in the world by our senses, and we cannot know but we are only in a world of Accidents, viz. of Colours, and Smells and Sounds, &c. and our understandings cannot perceive by them, that there are any Substances in the world, much less discern betwixt one Substance and another, but every man by the use of his senses perceives sensible substances by means of the accidents inherent in them, or else no man can swear in judgement any thing concerning any Man, or Beast, or House, or Lands, or Goods, neither can there be any civil converse among men in the world.

2 Object.
Serm. XXI. in the Lords Supper.

2 Object. Sense must yield to be corrected and over-ruled by Faith, and Gods Word must bebelieved before our Senfes.

Answ. 1. This is but a Popifh trick, to hide the truth of God; for it is not our present question, whether we must believe God or our Senfes, but whether we must believe the words of a company of cheating Papifts, or believe God speaking to our understandings by Scripture, by Reafon, by the Creatures, and by our Senfes, and by all those things which are witnesses of his Truth to our Souls.

2. We do in this matter give Faith its due place in our Hearts; for our Understandings do here perceive by that use of our Senfes, which God hath made them for, that here is Bread and Wine; but that this Bread and Wine are blessed to signifie, and convey to us the Body and Blood of Christ, this we asfent unto by Faith; and by Faith we do discern the Lords body, and blood, in the use of that Bread and Wine which we discern by our Senfes: And thus we own both the Truths of God, viz. That there is Bread and Wine in the Lords Supper, and that Christ crucified is therein preffented to our Souls in the use of them, and so we give both Faith and Sense their due place and use in us.

3. We believe, that the Truths revealed to our understandings by the visible Creatures, in the use of our Senfes, are as the Apostle speaks, the Truths of God, Rom. 1. 25. And that it is a Truth of God, that the Creatures we speak of, are Bread and Wine, because we understand by our senses, that they have the nature, and all the Properties of Bread and Wine, and we know that the God that cannot lie, cannot speak a Truth to our understandings, by the Creatures, and by our Senfes, and then deny and contradic it by his Word to our Faith.

It may now be expected, that I should here give you an account of the Doctrine of the Ancients in this matter, but to this I shall only say these three things.

1. That this is undertaken, and I doubt not, is effectually performed by a Reverend Brother, whose work assigned him is to prove the Novelty of Popery, both in this their great Article of Tranfubfiantiation, and also in other Popifh Doctrines, to whose Discourse I referre you for Satisfacon therein.

2. That I do profe to honour the ancient Fathers in the Church of God, who have in their several Ages been faithfull witnesses to this, and other Truths of God reveal'd in the Scriptures; and I do rejoice in my hopes of being in the same blessed Body of Christ with them: but I have chosen to infit on these Arguments, which I hope to defend, knowing that all that the Scripture, Reafon, and Senfes do speak, God speaketh by them; but I cannot say of all that Justin Martyr, Tertullian, Cyprian, Ambrose, Austin, Hierom, &c. do speak, that God speaketh by them; and if it had hapned, that any of these men had contradicted Scripture, Reafon and Sense (could their Opinions have been as old as the Devil in Hell) I would say with the Apostle, Gal. 2. 6. Whatever they were.
it, maketh no matter to me, God accepteth no mans Person, for God and his Truth must not be tried by the Judgements of fallible men.

3. That the same Doctrine which I have delivered, had its beginning from Christ, and hath passed from him by the Scriptures, through all true Antiquity, is fully proved by Bishop Jewell, Bishop Morton, Cranmer, Molin, and Albertinus, and many others, who have said more in this case than I have either time or ability to speak, or than would be fit for this Discourse; and it is as manifest that the Judgement of the ancient Fathers is against Transubstantiation, as it is that there were such person's, and that their writings are extant in the world; infomuch, that had they lived under Popish percoutions, they would have burnt those very men on Earth, and curfed them to Hell, whom they canonize for Saints, and vainly and impiously crave their Intercession in Heaven.

I shall yet answer two Objections, and then conclude with a brief Application.

1. Objection. The Pope and his Council have determined that Transubstantiation is in the Lords Supper, and we must believe them.

Answer. Chemnithius (a) hath told them, that it is the Confession of Scotus, Cameracnsis and others, that neither Scripture, nor the Opinion of the Ancients, compell us to believe the Doctrine of Transubstantiation; and Bellarmin (b) confeseth, that what Scotus faith, is not improbable, viz. That there is no express place of Scripture compells us to admit Transubstantiation without the declaration of the Church. And so after all their Disputations and Curises, and blood-sned, and deluding so many Souls; we must believe this Doctrine of Transubstantiation, because the Pope and his Council have said it. But how shall we be infallibly assur'd, that God doth tranmit his mind and will to us by the Pope and his Council? or where doth God command us to go to this infallible Oracle the Bishop of Rome, either singly, or conjunctly with his Council, to be concluded by him or them, in matters of Faith? But alas! what a dreadful case is this, that a whole world of precious Souls must have no better a Foundation for their Religion and Salvation than this, viz. That we must all believe the Papists, and that we must believe them for this Reason, because they tell us we must believe them; but if they will damn their Souls in believing one another, let us labour to save ours by believing the God of Truth, speaking to us by his Word.

2. Objection. These words, This is my Body, &c. are the words of our dying Lord, and to his Disciples, to whom he would not speak darkly in Figures; and they are the words of a Testament, and of a Law; and expressed in intire Propositions, all which require Plainness, and to be spoken properly, and not in dark figures: Do not these seem plausible Objections, and cunningly devis'd to trepan poor Souls into Errour?

Why these are Bellarmines Objections. (c)

Answer. They themselves are forced to confesst, that the words, This Serm. XXI. in the Lords Supper.

οὐπὶ ἡμῖν, &c. which are the words of our dying Lord, and to his Disciples, and words of a Testament, and of a Law, and an entire Proposition; are yet spoken in a figurative sense, which overthrows all their pretended Reasons for a proper or literal sense of the words.

2. Words are not therefore dark, because they are figurative, for figures often do explain, and not darken the sense of words; I confess a Trope, a Figure, a Metonymy, a Synecdoche, &c. are hard words to vulgar ears, but you must know that these are words of Art, which Learned men have wisely invented, but they are grounded on the natural way of men expressing themselves, in their ordinary and familiar language: and therefore even Children, and unlearned men that cannot read, do ordinarily speak, and understand the Language that is spoken in Tropes and Figures, though they know not what Trope or Figure to reduce such expressions unto; for Example; If a man say, drink off this Cup or Glass; or as he looks on the Signs in the Streets, faith, This is a Swan, and this is a Lyon; or faith of Pictures in a Chamber, This is Alexander, or Caesar; or faith of a written Parchment wherein he hath signified his Will, in bequeathing his Estate, This is my Will; all this is plain and easie, and familiar language, and yet few understand the Tropes in these Expressions: And so the words, This is my body, this cup is my blood, are plain and intelligible words, though few understand the Names of those Tropes or figures, which they are spoken in.

3. Whereas the Papists pretend to give a proper or literal sense of these words, yet their sense to justify their Transubstantiation is so full of monstrous and blasphemous contradictions, and so dark, that neither they themselves, nor others understand them: Sometimes the word this must signify these accidents; sometimes this substance contained under these Accidents: But this substance must neither be the Bread nor Christ's Body, but an individuum vagum, and though the word this applied to a substance doth always determine and demonstrate the said substance, yet here they make it to signify such a vagrant, that all the world knows not where to find it. And in like manner they rack the word is, which must sometimes mean is properly and essentially, when it speaks of the Accidents, sometimes is made, sometimes is transubstantiated, and one (a) will have it to denote all these: And thus they torture this plain Scripture, to serve their odious Doctrine of Transubstantiation; and when they have done all, they have nothing but the word of a blasphemous Pope, and factious Council for it.

Uses. Six Inferences.

1. Inf. That it is Idolatry in the Papists to worship the consecrated Bread, though they think it is turned into the Body of Christ.

I should here speak to two things.

1. That their worshipping the consecrated Bread, is Idolatry.

2. That
There is no Transubstantiation

Serm. XXI.

2. That their thinking it to be the Body of Christ, doth not excuse them from Idolatry.

(1.) For the first, I shall briefly speak to three things.
1. Acquaint you with the Doctrine herein.
2. Acquaint you with their Practice.
3. Prove that their practicing this Doctrine is Idolatry.

1. Their Doctrine is declared in the Council of Trent thus. (a) That it is an undoubted Truth, that all Christians ought to give the same Worshipp to the Sacrament of the Eucharist, which they give to God himself, and that if any deny this, let him be accursed.

2. They practice this Doctrine, for in their Roman Missal, the Priests are taught to lift up the Host, and to worship it themselves, thrice striking their breasts, and saying, O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the World, have mercy upon us. And among many instances that may be given of their idolatrous practice herein, I shall only give you this: "In the year 1666. at Lyons in France, it was in the church, that a company of devout persons taking their turns, should perpetually day and night adore the holy Sacrament, some of them always kneeling before it in a certain Church chosen by them: And in a large place more spacious than Lincoln's Inne Fields, London, called Belle Cour, the Sacrament was exposed on a rich and magnificent Altar, (set on a high Scaffold) to be adored by all the Town together; and there were about three score thousand people on their knees together, worshipping it; the most glorious Triumph that ever was seen, (faith a Jesuit in his late description of this City.) And thus do these poor defiled wretches solemnly give that Worshipp to Wafers which is only due to God himself.

3. That this practice is Idolatry, appears,

First, By all that I have said against Transubstantiation; for seeing the substance of the Bread remains, as I have prov’d, the Papist’s worshipping this Bread, must needs be gross Idolatry: For the Council of Trent makes Transubstantiation to be the ground and reason of this solemn Adoration. (b) And its a known saying of their own Coferus to this purpose, That if by Transubstantiation the Bread be not turned into the Body of Christ, their worshipping the Host is the greatest Idolatry in the world.

Secondly, It is gross Idolatry to give that Worshipp to a Creature which is only due to God; and yet these men fall down unto, and worship, and call upon this Bread; as all Believers fall down unto, and worship and call upon God: Their practice herein is much like their Idolatry in worshipping their graven Images, mentioned Isa. 44. 16, 17. He burneth part thereof in the fire, with part thereof he eateth flesh; he rosteth rofeth the ref, and is satisfied, yea he warmeth himself, and faith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire, and the residue thereof he maketh a God, even his graven Image, he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and faith, Deliver me, for thou art my God; in like manner do the Idolatrous Papifts by this Bread, part thereof they take into their mouths, and grind with their teeth, and eat it, and part of it (as in the case of the Rats and Worms eating the confecrated Bread,) they cast into the fire and burn it, and part thereof they refervce for their God, and carry it about, and fall down to it, and worship it, and pray to it, as to their Saviour, to have them from their fins.

(2.) I proceed to prove, that the Papifts thinking this Bread to be the Body of Christ, doth not excufe them from Idolatry: This is evident, for God's Law being sufficiently revealed, man's wilful ignorance thereof cannot extinguish the Obligation of it, nor alter the nature of that sin which is a breach of that Law; the Heathens worshipping the Sun is Idolatry, though they think it to be God; fo the Papifts worshipping the Wafer is Idolatry, though they think it to be the Body of Christ with his Soul and God-head; as to kill the Saints of God, is murder and persecution, though the enemies may think they do therein God service, Job. 16, 2.

2 Inference. Hence see under what Characters we are to look upon the Papifts: We are told what Names some of their Flatterers have given to some of their Popes. In the Council of Lateran, it's said of the Pope: All Power in Heaven and Earth is given to thee; and Panormitan faith, the Pope can do all things that God can do. The Ambassadors of Sicily cry'd to one Pope, Thou that tak'st away the sins of the World, have mercy upon us; and faith a Bishop in a profane quibble of Pope Leo, Behold the Lyon of the Tribe of Judah, we have waited for thee (O most blessed Leo) to be our Saviour. See Brightman on Revel. 13. 3. and we know his Holiness is the Name given him by the Papifts; and the Romish Church doth arrogate the Name of the only Holy Catho-lick Church. But if we will give the Papifts a Name from their Religion and Practice, we must give them three characters.

First, They are an Idolatrous People, as appears by what I have now said, and as is made known to you by more Arguments from other hands; and therefore we need not envy their Grandeur, and Kingdom upon Earth, seeing the Apostle affures us, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. That no Idolaters have any Inheritance in the Kingdom of God.

Secondly, They are a most uncharitable and cruel people; and though their School-men do ingeniously plead, that Charity or Love is the most excellent of all Graces, and measure the worth of other Graces, and the evil of all sins by Charity; yet are they a most inhumane and barbarous People: and this is not only evident, by all the blood of the Saints, that lies crying at their doors for vengeance, but also that they will have all men cursed and damned, who will not in defiance of God, and Scripture, H h h h and and Reason, and Sense, say that Bread is no Bread, and who will not believe that the God of Truth doth speak all the hideous contradictions in their Doctrine of Transubstantiation; as if having usurp'd the keyes of Hell and Death, they had decreed that all Believers shall be damned, and that none but Atheists and Infidels shall be saved.

Thirdly, A perjured people, in that they impose, and many of them take this Oath. "I N. N. do swear, that this conversion, which the Catholick Church doth call Transubstantiation, is made in the Eucharist, without the Belief of which no man can be saved. What horrid Perjury is this, to swear that Bread is no Bread, and Wine is no Wine, and that all the contradictions in the Doctrine of Transubstantiation are true, and that all are damned who do not believe the same.

3 Inference. Hence we see, that there is no Communion to be had with the Church of Rome; for except we will all renounce our present Christianity, and profess that we are no Members of the Church of God, till we are in union with the Pope, and so proclaim our selves, and all Christians in the world, who are not Papists, to be a generat on of dissembling Knaves, and except we first turn Atheists, and believe that God speaks lies and contradictions we cannot turn Papists.

4 Inference. Hence see what a dreadfull slavery it is to be the servants and slaves to the Devil, who engageth his servants to debauch their Consciences, and rack their wits, and to spend their precious time, and parts, and Learning, to spread and defend Nonsense and Lies. Bellarmino (b) faith, he spent fifteen years about Controversies in Religion: A fearfull thing, that a man of so great Learning and parts should waste a great part of his Age, and much of it in contradicting God, and the Truth, and himself; but though I will not judge any one that is gone into the Eternal World, yet I would warn all to take heed especially how they venture to fin in print, let their Books should be speaking for the Devil on Earth, when they themselves are tormented with the Devil in Hell.

5 Inference. Be faithfull to the Truths of God, and let them not be held in unrighteousness in your judgements, but let them rule in your Hearts and Lives; if Truth prevail to make you holy, then though Seducers may make Merchandize of your Estates, yet they shall never make Merchandize of your Souls; but if you will not love the Truth, and walk in the Truth, all our Arguments cannot secure you from the Temptations of the Devil and Seducers, nor keep God from being angry with you, and from giving you up to strong delusions to believe lies.

Ul. Beliefs God for your Religion, that your Religion comes from the Grace of God by his Word, to make you holy here, and happy hereafter, and not from the Devil and Pope, to feed your Lufts, and damn your Souls, and to make you goe ignorantly and quietly to Hell; and and bless God that you have in this Nation the true Doctrine of the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, which as I said in the beginning of this Discourse, so I say again in the Conclusion, is clearly and fully delivered from the mind of Christ in these words, and which hath been sealed by the blood of those blessed Martyrs in our own Land, who have been sacrificed to death for the service of your Faith, whose Blood was of more value than all the Popes that ever usurped Supremacy over the Church and Body of Christ.
